MOUNT SAVIOUR NEWSLETTER

SUMMER 1968

Br Sebastian Mason received the kiss of peace from Rev Fr Damiano
 at his final oblation.
 June 29th.

A photographer has arisen in our midst, hence the scrap-booky character of this Newsletter. But summer perhaps is not the time for serious articles, and so we fulfill a long-time wish to show something of the life of our community.

Abbot Primate
 Reinhold Wenckland of Rome paid us his first visit in early June.

Bob Miller, chair, director of Grace Chapel Church in Elmira, worked with the choir each Thursday morning during the winter.

A group of Presbyterian friends spent 2 days with us in February. Rev. Roy Mousseau & Fr. Gregory read papers on 'church order' at the 2 meetings of ministers & people.

Dr. Raymond Panicker, a Roman-Catholic on the faculties of Hindu University, Banaras, & Harvard Divinity School, gave the community retreat in May.

Donald Eddy, of the English Dept at Cornell University, spoke to us about Samuel Johnson.

John Boler, of the Philosophy Dept, Univ. Washington, brother of Fr. Marvin, addressed the community.

Tree planting in the spring.

The spring outing, held in June, near Ithaca.

Fr. Martin & David Racz talking to Rudy Moynane, director of the Elmira Neighborhood Youth Corps, after he had spoken to the Community about his work.

Bob Ivers, designer of the leather advertorial in the last Chronicle, showing his proposal to Fr. Augustine & Brs Peter and Lawrence, who, with Fr. Martin & Basil, make up a 'publications committee' at the monastery.

Tom Wingert advising Fr. Augustine, cellarer.

Abbot David of New Malleting, Town, and Père Verlequin of Mistassini, Quebec, were among several Trappist guests during the early summer.

At the sister meal, celebrated Tuesday
